

What is Litecoin and how does it work?

What is Litecoin

Digital currency

Uses efficient mining with consumer grade software

Decentralised electronic money

Transactions are viewed via public ledger "blockchain"

Peer to peer transaction

Currencies, then and now

Digital Money

'Silver to Bitcoin's Gold'

Peer to peer transaction

Lower transaction fees

LTC

Electronic money

proof of work

Miners

4X faster confirmation rate

Litecoin

84 million coins

More secure

XLT

Blockchain

Digital currency

Script algorithm

Decentralised

Litecoin wallet

Bitcoin

Cryptocurrency

Antminer S7 Hardware

Litecoin fractions

0.001

mLTC (millicoin)

0.000001

μLTC (microcoin)

0.00000001

Litoshi

How to get started with Litecoin

1. Create a Litecoin wallet

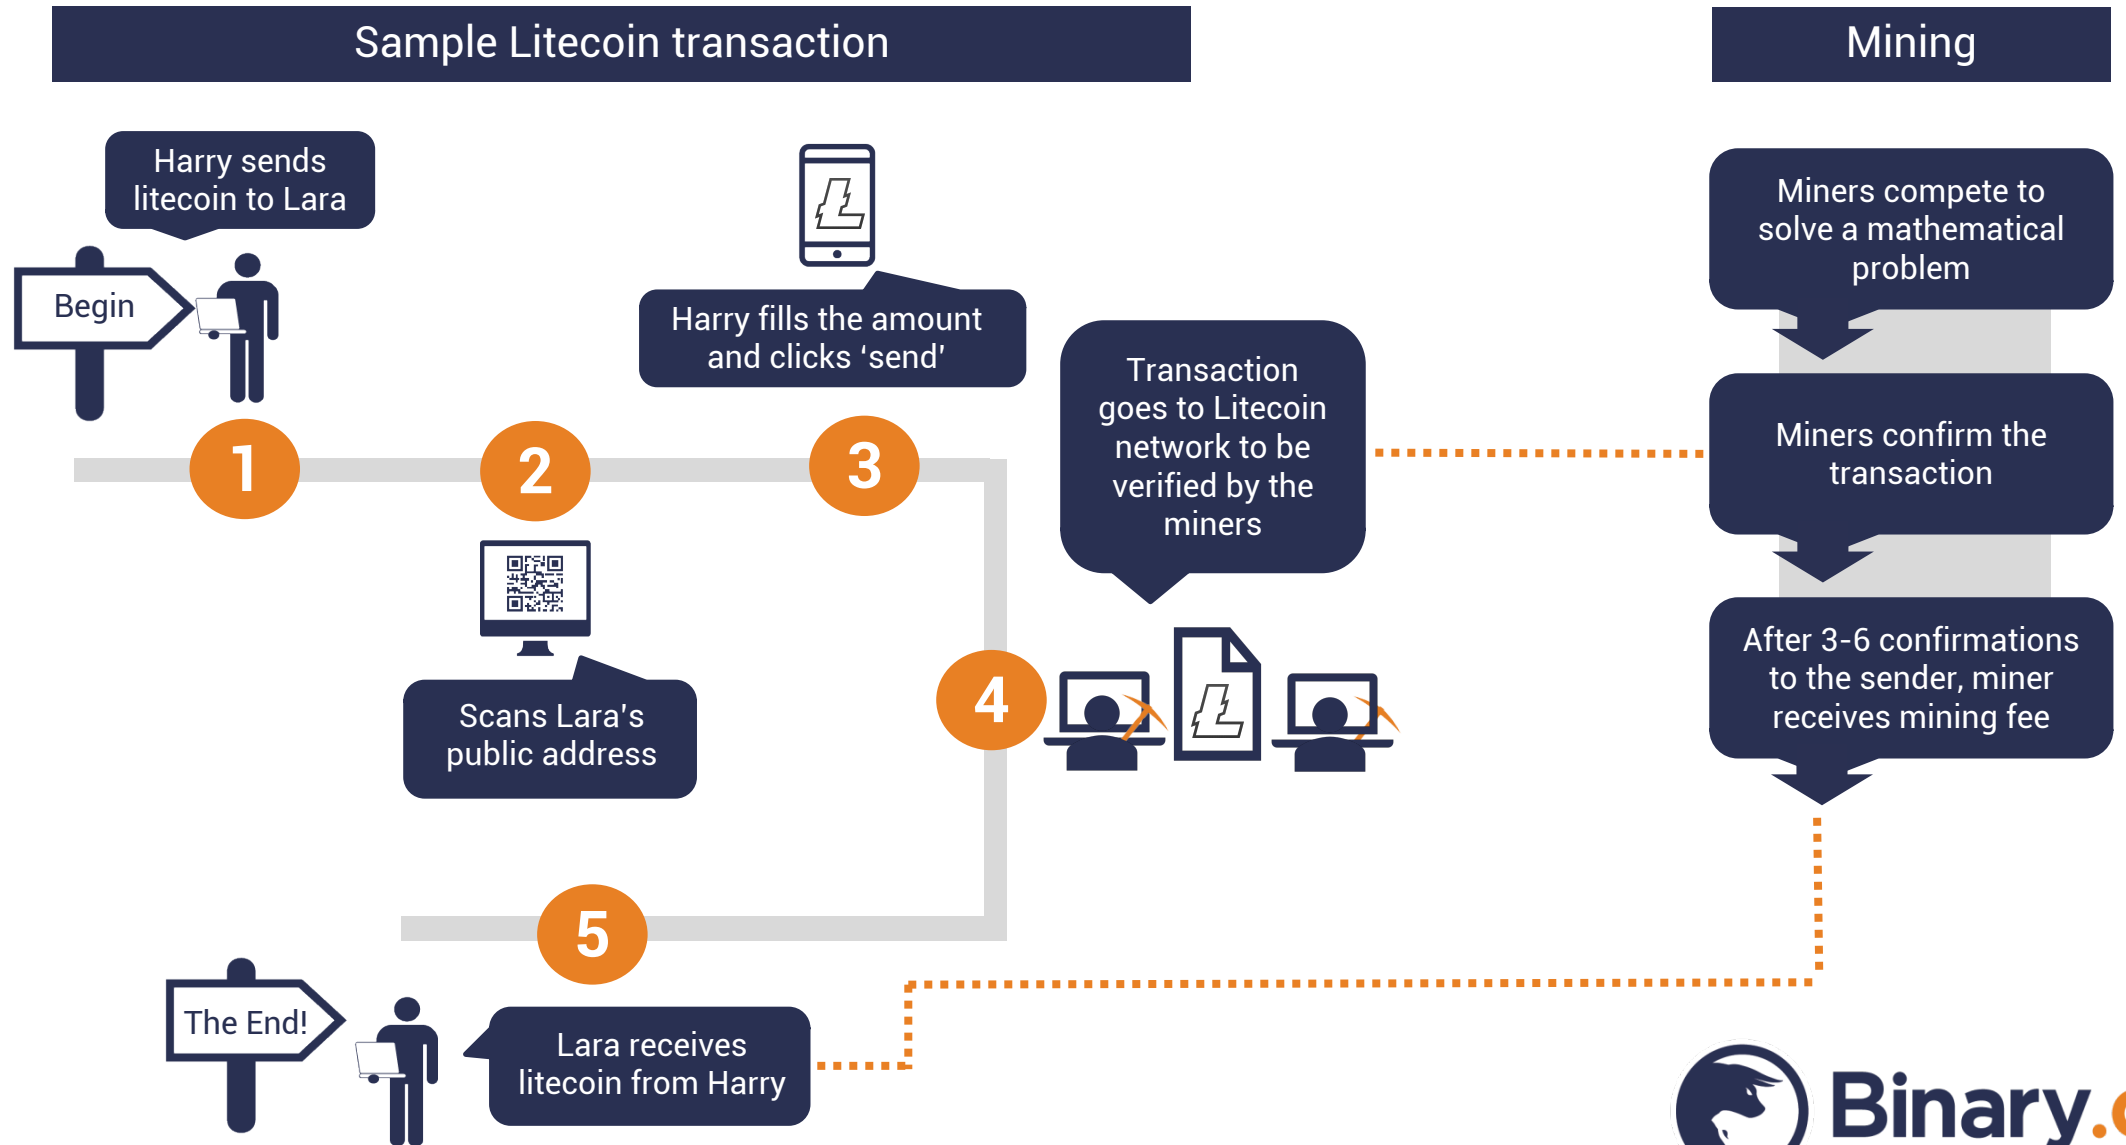

2. Transfer funds to your Litecoin wallet

3. Buy and sell Litecoin

How Litecoin works

Litecoin vs. Bitcoin

Digital currency (silver)

Market capitalization: $50 million

84 million coins

2.5 minutes per block

Miner fee: 50 litecoins per block

Digital currency (gold)

Market capitalization: $1.5 billion

21 million coins

10 minutes per block

Miner fee: 25 bitcoins per block

Companies are starting to accept litecoins

To learn more about Litecoin, visit
academy.binary.com

Sign up for a Litecoin Account today

<https://www.binary.com>

marketing@binary.com

Telegram: Binary Group

